ATLANTA BASED CANNON HYGIENE AIMS TO RAISE STANDARDS IN U.S. RESTROOMS

Norcross, GA —February 22, 2008—Cannon Hygiene, Inc., one of the world's top hygiene service businesses and the company responsible for maintaining standards of hygiene in some of Britain's royal households, including Buckingham Palace, is bringing its expert services to America's restrooms.

Cannon has expanded to eight U.S. states* from its headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. The company provides comprehensive restroom hygiene services and products for commercial, educational, medical, and government facilities.

Our services place a great emphasis on improving hygiene in these facilities, especially now as the risk of contamination from blood-borne pathogens increases in the restroom environment.

"Our company now operates in 30 countries across the globe," says Doug Calvert, president of Cannon Hygiene, Inc. "And its standards and credentials are impeccable, with customers ranging from government agencies to world class airports."

Cannon's wide range of products and services are tailored to the needs of companies and organizations large and small. The company is particularly concerned about the issue of feminine hygiene waste. If handled improperly, this waste can pose a serious health hazard because it may contain bacteria and viruses such as HIV and hepatitis.

Another key concern for building owners and facility managers is the risk to cleaning staff whose work requires the removal of such waste.

To address these issues, Cannon offers a complete exchange service for handling feminine hygiene waste. The service includes:

- Supplying a high-quality disposal unit employing foot controls or an advanced system that is activated by an infrared sensor— both requiring no contact whatsoever with the unit or waste, and greatly reducing the risk of cross-infection.
- Removing the entire unit and replaces it with a disinfected one at agreed service intervals.

To help protect indoor air quality, every unit contains Cannon's unique vapor-action deodorizer for odor prevention.

Cannon Hygiene, Inc. is part of the OCS property services group that has worldwide sales of $1.8 billion and employs 65,000 people on five continents.

“Our business may be relatively new to the USA, but we have 50 years' experience in the provision of the latest advances in cleaning technologies and products. We can provide efficient, effective, and economic support to any organization regardless of size, and our expert team is committed to adding value and service to clients' needs,” concluded Calvert.
