ATP METER

Do you really know how clean your surfaces are? With the SystemSURE Plus adenosine triphosphate (ATP) measurement system from Kaivac, users have accurate verification of the hygienic status of a surface. ATP is the universal energy molecule found in all living cells. After hygienic cleaning, sources of ATP on a surface should be significantly reduced. Kaivac's SystemSURE Plus is a handheld device that allows you to check ATP levels. It's the perfect combination of high technology that is also relatively inexpensive and simple to use.
