The Green Roof Finally Gets its Day in the Sun

Robert Kravitz

Before exploring the benefits of green roofs, the types of green roofs and roofing systems must be understood.

Green roofing systems, quite prevalent in Germany and other parts of Europe, are becoming much more commonplace on North American office and school buildings, medical centers, and manufacturing and industrial facilities as well. Although it has been a slow start and a long journey, there are a number of reasons why this is happening and why it is happening now.

Primarily, this is because...
