Fuller Group Becomes Franchisee of Cannon Hygiene

One of the largest building service contractors in Puerto Rico, Fuller Group, is now a franchisee of Cannon Hygiene, Inc., a professional restroom hygiene service with its U.S. headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

According to Jorge Lopez, Fuller Group general manager, the 40-year-old family-owned business includes three divisions:

- Antilles Cleaning Services, a full-service janitorial company serving the entire island of Puerto Rico
- North Janitorial, which specializes in cleaning medical and health-care facilities
- Fuller Industrial, marketing the full line of products manufactured by the Fuller Brush Company.

"What drew us to Cannon Hygiene was the company's commitment to health, hygiene, and sanitation," says Lopez. "Our customers here have become increasingly concerned about restroom sanitation and protecting health."

Cannon Hygiene has franchisees and company-owned locations throughout the United States and now Puerto Rico.

Along with a full range of restroom products, Cannon Hygiene is best known for its hands-free, feminine hygiene disposal units.

It is also a distributor of the Dyson AirBlade, a touch free, HEPA-filtered hand drying system that dries hands in 12 seconds or less.

"We see partnering with Cannon Hygiene as part of our business evolution," says Lopez. "We were the first company on the Island to begin using healthier, Green-certified cleaning products. Now, with Cannon, we are the first and only company here to take restrooms to a safer, healthier, and more hygienic level."
