TORNADO PRODUCT TRAINING CLASSES TO BEGIN

Tornado Industries, makers of professional carpet and floor care equipment, announces the schedule for their 2006 Product Training Classes, which begin in April.

Three classes will be taught this year:

- Tornado 101, April 11–13, covers floor care issues, including more productive ways to use carpet extractors, floor machines, wet/dry vacuums, cylindrical brush floor machines, and small to midsized scrubbers.
- CM2, July 11–13, provides instruction on using larger commercial cleaning equipment such as walk-behind/ride-on scrubbers, pressure washers, walk-behind sweepers, as well as steam (vapor) cleaning machines.
- IM1, September 12–14, focuses on industrial cleaning, specifically the use of industrial-sized ride-on and walk-behind sweepers and scrubbers, and jumbo vacuum cleaners used in industrial vacuuming.

“Historically, our classes have always been very well attended,” says Gary Cirone, Vice President of Tornado Industries. “We ask that all attendees have a basic knowledge of professional, commercial, and industrial cleaning; at least six months of floor care experience; and their own multimeter*.”

For more information or to register, call Carol Hosp at (708) 867-5100, extension 8306, or e-mail chosp@tornadovac.com.

*A multimeter measures electric voltage, current, and amperage.
